The High Holidays: Getting Ready

The High Holidays

In Judaism, Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur are known as the High Holidays or High Holy Days. These sacred days fall on different dates each year, following the Jewish soli-lunar calendar, in which each Hebrew month begins with the new moon. Rosh Hashanah marks the Jewish New Year, 5786, — a time when Jews gather for prayer, reflection, and to celebrate with sweet foods and festive traditions. Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, is the holiest day of the Jewish year. It is typically observed through fasting (when medically appropriate) and seeking forgiveness for the past year's transgressions or sins. As a reminder, all Jewish holidays begin and end at sunset, in keeping with the belief that God created night before day.

This year, Rosh Hashanah will begin at sundown on Monday, September 22 and end at sundown Wednesday, September 24.

Yom Kippur will begin at sundown on Wednesday, October 1 and end at sundown Thursday, October 2.

6 Ways to Prepare for the High Holidays

1) Make a Holiday Shopping List

With the High Holidays approaching, don't be the last one searching for a round challah! This special braided bread is shaped in a circle to symbolize the cyclical nature of the year.

Another cherished tradition is dipping apples in honey—a sweet way to express our hope for a joyful and prosperous year ahead. Apples are said to represent renewal, while pomegranates, filled with hundreds of seeds, symbolize abundance and the many good deeds we aspire to in the coming year.

To help residents celebrate, consider picking up some of these traditional items:

- ✓ Apples
- ✓ Round challah
- ✓ Honey cake
- ✓ Honey
- ✓ Pomegranate
- ✓ Brisket

When it's time to celebrate, feel free to greet others with “Chag Sameach” or “Shanah Tovah”—wishing them a happy and sweet New Year!

2) Schedule Services

The month preceding the High Holidays is called Elul. It begins with a ceremonial forgiveness service where congregations gather to recite special prayers preceding Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur. This long period of reflection allows Jews to say traditional prayers. This holiday season, please contact JFS for information on in-person and virtual high holiday services at (518) 482-8856 or info@jfsnyny.org.

3) Practice Meditations

The month of Elul is meant as a time of introspection. The goal is to have a better sense of self — shortcomings and mistakes, seeking forgiveness where possible, and giving forgiveness as well. Host reflective sessions with your residents using the following tools:

- ✓ Meditation Music
- ✓ End of Year Reflection Worksheet

In addition to these resources, the Institute for Jewish Spirituality hosts free, daily online Meditation Sits, Mondays through Fridays from 12:30 - 1pm EST. You can sign up for the Zoom link directly on their website or go to their YouTube page to watch their most recent live streams.

4) Commemorate Departed Loved Ones

Around the High Holidays, it is customary for Jews to visit the gravesites of their loved ones. This practice can also be done by adding a new plant to your garden or simply taking time to celebrate the lives of those who remain in their memory. Please reach out if JFS can be of assistance.

5) Listen to the Sounds of the Shofar and Traditional Music

A shofar is a ram's horn that is played like a trumpet. The crying sounds remind listeners to be introspective and repent any sins from the previous year. Traditionally, the shofar is sounded every day during the month of Elul (except on Shabbat). Whether listening to the shofar or other tunes for the High Holidays, familiar melodies can bring memories and excitement for the future.

- ✓ Sounds of the shofar
- ✓ Shofar for Rosh Hashanah
- ✓ Avinu Malkeinu - recited from the beginning of Elul through Yom Kippur
- ✓ Dip Your Apple - a modern Rosh Hashanah song set to the tune of Shakira's Waka Waka (This Time for Africa)

6) Reach Out to Others

This time is often used to connect. Whether scheduling a Zoom call or exchanging letters, rekindling a relationship can bring joy and fulfillment to residents' lives. Support your Jewish residents by offering to facilitate connections if they are not able.

Bubbe's Corner

You can always count on Bubbe (Yiddish for “grandmother”) for her wisdom, stories and traditions. Today Bubbe Norah shares some fun stories about preparing for the High Holidays. Whether your residents are a Bubbe or have a Bubbe figure in their life, spend time learning about holiday preparations that are both traditional and new.

Back when I lived on the Upper East Side, I remember hearing my neighbor blow his shofar everyday of Elul.

I'm so excited to teach my grandchildren to say chag sameach!

When I was a girl, I loved picking apples and setting them aside for the yummy recipes I made with my Bubbe.

With the new year coming up, I think I'll give my friends Susan and Barbara a call.

Every year for the High Holidays, my family would add money to our tzedakah box and pick a charity we want to donate to. Please consider JFS. We can only provide services like chaplaincy support through the generosity of our community.
